

If you are owed a substantial sum of money in back child or spousal support, you can utilize a QDRO to collect the support money directly from the retirement account of payor parent/former. Contact The Law Office of David T. Ruegg to find out if a QDRO is appropriate for collecting support arrears in your case.